

NCERT Solutions for Class 12 English Flamingo Poem 4

Question 1.

List the things of beauty mentioned in the poem.

Answer:

Keats begins the poem by saying that a beautiful thing is a source of everlasting pleasure. It keeps people from being overwhelmed by worldly concerns. Pleasure is the escape from reality. The things of beauty that provide happiness to the soul are the sun, the moon, a bower of trees, daffodils, and clear streams. He also talks about musk-roses that flower in the forest. The magnificence of the heroic tales also inspires us. Keats primarily talks about the beauty of nature in the poem.

Question 2.

List the things that cause suffering and pain.

Answer:

Keats lists the things that cause suffering and pain to human soul. It includes the scarcity of noble people, overcast days, and the unhealthy and miserable ways in which humanity searches for meaning in life.

Question 3.

What does the line, "Therefore are we wreathing a flowery band to bind us to earth" suggest to you?

Answer:

For Keats, each "flowery band" serves as a reminder of the fragility of whatever people have achieved. Beauty signifies a constant battle to guard one's well-being against sadness and defeat. The poet praises nature and believes that man's connection with nature was essential in contributing to his happiness.

Question 4.

What makes human beings love life in spite of troubles and sufferings?

Answer:

Keats elaborates through the poem that beautiful experiences help in overcoming one's problems. It is because of the eternal pleasures that despite much unhappiness and misery, one continues to love and value life. He exults over how he considers beauty to be immortal. He affirms that it always lifts the pall—the funeral cover—from the coffin of confused misery to provide some light for humanity's anxious quest for meaning. The pleasure one derives from beautiful objects and experiences dispels any misery.

Question 5.

Why is "grandeur" associated with the "mighty dead"?

Answer:

The word “grandeur” is associated with the “mighty dead” because the splendour of such deeds is inspirational. The legends and stories of martyrs inspire people. Through their legends, the mighty dead continue to live and act as spiritual guides. This enhances the quality of one’s life — divine influence, like an eternal fountain, showers its grace on earthly existence.

Question 6.

Do we experience things of beauty only for short moments or do they make a lasting impression on us?

Answer:

Beauty is a quality in a person or an object that gives intense pleasure or deep satisfaction to the mind. Beauty has inspired many, throughout history. Beauty of nature has been celebrated by humans since time immemorial. Those who cherish the beauty of the earth find reserves of strength that would endure for life. According to Keats, things of beauty give eternal pleasure and erase the misery in our soul. They do not fade away into nothingness, their beauty increases with time.

Question 7.

What image does the poet use to describe the beautiful bounty of the earth?

Answer:

Romantics have praised the majesty of nature in many of the literary works, Keats’ poetry in Endymion, is dominated by a description of the natural world. He uses the images of nature to describe the beautiful bounty of the earth. He specifically refers to the sun, moon, daffodils, and trees, stating that their beauty gives life true meaning and significance. Keats also states how beauty continues to inspire ceaselessly. The poem also illustrates a connection with nature—“flowery band to bind us to the earth”.